SPECIAL FALL REGISTRATION ISSUE

AUGUST, 2022

President's Message

Greetings,

Welcome to the Fall Semester!

As you check out our course offerings for the Fall Semester, note the great variety of subjects, both in general studies, and technical courses.

Our classes range from history, music, security, and current events, to understanding and coping with basic and advanced features offered iPhones, iPads, Apple Watches, Windows 10, and more. Again, all with no homework; just fun in learning.

Our volunteers are ready to help you with Open House class registration on August 17th, from 9:00 am to 12:00 in the Business & Education building, where you can learn more about the subjects you have interest in, register, and obtain your university parking pass. Open House also offers the opportunity to make new friends and reunite old ones.

A special note about Open House registration: The university has only one computer available that will allow for credit card payment for class registration. As such, we recommend paying by check to expedite the process. That being said, we will endeavor to make registering for classes as smooth and easy a process as possible, including providing light refreshments.

Thank you for your interest in the Center for Lifelong Learning, and I look forward to seeing you in the coming semester.

Sincerely,

David Tavernier, CLL President

FALL SEMESTER IS ON THE WAY!

The Center for Lifelong Learning (CLL) fall semester at University of South Carolina Aiken is almost here.

With one $35 membership you will be eligible to enroll in 60 reasonably priced short courses on technology and general interest subjects.

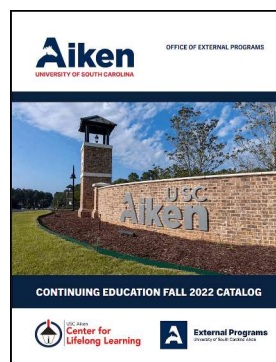

The first short courses begin right after Labor Day with more starting throughout the semester. All fall term courses end by Thanksgiving.

You can learn more about the Center for Lifelong Learning by visiting our website at aikenlearning.org.

Registration opens on Wednesday August 17 at 9 am. You can register online (the page will not be activated before 9 am on August 17), by submitting the form in the catalog, or by attending our Open House. See the website for details.

Center for Lifelong Learning fall offerings, with full dates and descriptions, are now available on the COURSES page (aikenlearning.org/courses.html) on the Center's website. For the full semester calendar, see the CALENDAR page (aikenlearning.org/calendar.html).

The Center for Lifelong Learning catalog is included in the USC Aiken Continuing Education printed catalog. Those on the Continuing Education catalog mailing lists should receive their copies in early August. Otherwise, when the catalog is released, you can pick it up at the USC Aiken External Programs office, Business and Education Building, room 126.

Once the catalog is released, The Center for Lifelong Learning portion of the combined catalog will be available for download from the Center's website at aikenlearning.org/catalog.html.

REGISTRATION OPEN HOUSE

The Center for Lifelong Learning will be holding an Open House on the USC Aiken Campus on August 17 in room 122 of the Business and Education Building, from 9 until noon. You can come to learn about our organization, get your questions answered, become a member, register for your classes, and receive your campus parking permit all in one stop. Light refreshments will be available.

When registering at the Open House, please bring a photo ID and your automobile registration with you to facilitate obtaining your campus parking sticker. It will save you a trip back to your car.
