Newsletter of the Center for Lifelong Learning, University of South Carolina Aiken

JULY, 2024

Editor's Message

We're now rolling into the dog days of summer. Although the South Carolina heat and humidity can be a challenge, I admit I am enjoying some time off between Center for Lifelong Learning semesters and a respite from all those repeated drives to the north side of town. Now I only go there for doctor visits and trips to Sam's Club. It's amazing how my gas-line consumption goes down when the Center is not holding sessions.

Center operations continue behind the scenes. Planning for the Fall semester is in full swing with preparation of the catalog for submission to the printer, readying the class management and registration software for the updated curriculum, and planning for the August 14-13 Registration Open House.

Meanwhile, enjoy your summer outside the confines of the USCA B&E Building, whether you spend it touring the world, going to the beach, or just relaxing at home. We look forward to seeing you in the Fall when CLL classes resume.

Full course details will be available on the CLL Website when it gets updated for the Fall semester, tentatively planned for July 6.

The printed catalog will be available in mid-July and will be mailed directly from the printer to those on the catalog mailing list. Otherwise you can pick one up in the External Programs office once they are received from the printer.

The Great USC Aiken B&E Office Shuffle

Ongoing renovations in the USCA Business & Education building have caused a mass migration of many offices to new rooms. The External Programs Department no longer occupies the office suite just inside the entrance from Parking Lot C. You'll now find the Department office assignments in the following room numbers:

Paul Crook, Director (Tue & Thur only)	127
Kari Warren, Assistant Director	105
Ruth Poland, Administrative Assistant	103
Taryn Wallace, Curriculum Coordinator	104
